Audiology

Can I have an interpreter?

Yes, interpreters are free. Please let us know when booking an appointment.

IPC Health acknowledges the support of the Australian and Victorian Governments.

What do audiologists do?

An audiologist provides hearing tests for adults and children.

We can help you if you are experiencing:

- hearing difficulties, including:
 - problems hearing what other people are saying
 - problems hearing when there is loud background noise
 - needing to increase the TV volume
- family history of hearing loss
- ringing sounds in your ear or ears
- ear infections
- dizziness or a feeling of spinning
- speech or language delay
- learning difficulties at school

Who can use this service?

The service is available for children aged 1 year and older, and adults of all ages.

Where can I access this service?

The service is available at our Deer Park campus.

How can an audiologist help?

We work in the following ways:

- measuring your hearing level
- checking if there is any fluid behind the eardrum
- providing a report of our tests
- discussing hearing aid options and rehabilitation programs and referring you to appropriate services where required
- providing advice about assistive listening alternative devices: for example, shaking alarms

If we can't directly help you, we will refer you to a service that can.

How do I get an appointment?

To make an appointment, contact our Audiology service on 1300 472 432. You might have to wait before an appointment becomes available.

Is there a fee?

A fee may apply to this service.
